

Ania Karzek

Ania Karzek is a Senior Program Manager with the Government of South Australia. Ania has worked across government in a number of subject areas, from water resource and environmental policy through to whole-of-government reform of people and the workplace. With over ten years experience in the public sector, she is passionate about continuous improvement in public policy.