

WHAT'S NEW IN UNDERGRADUATE SOCIAL WORK AND HUMAN SERVICES PROGRAMS AT UNISA IN 2011?

Exciting and unique new courses in Social Work and Human Services will commence in 2011.

These new practice courses will provide practical learning opportunities in our new studio teaching facilities. These innovative studios simulate the workplaces of human service professionals and create a learning environment in which students can practise their new skills. The studio incorporates student video facilities and a one way mirror. Through simulations of real professional situations, we will capture your imagination, enhance your understanding of social work practice, develop your skills and motivate you to continue learning.

These innovations in our programs are designed to:

- assist students from the beginning of their programs to develop a strong identity as emerging social workers or human service workers
- challenge students to work with a range of issues in diverse and complex situations
- allow students to test and receive feedback about their skills
- provide positive reinforcement of theoretical learning via practice-based learning.

Magill campus

New practice-based courses in the Social Work and Human Services programs:

- First year:
Communication Skills in Social Work and Human Services
- Second year:
Interviewing Skills in Social Work and Human Services
- Third year (Social Work only):
Advanced Practice in Social Work
- Fourth year (Social Work only):
Professional Practice in the Workplace

More information:

- unisa.edu.au/psw
- Contact Leanne Roe on 8302 4960, Magill campus
- Email swp.enquiries@unisa.edu.au